

The Daily Courant.

Friday, May 17. 1723.

THE following Address of the High Sheriff, Grand-Jury, Justices of the Peace, and Freeholders of the County of Corke, assembled at a General Assize the 22d of March last, having been transmitted by the Lords Justices of Ireland to his Grace the Duke of Grafton Lord Lieutenant of that Kingdom, has by him been presented to His Majesty.

To the King most Excellent Majesty.
The humble Address of the High Sheriff, Grand-Jury, Justices of the Peace, and Freeholders of the County of Corke, assembled at a General Assize the 22d Day of March, 1722.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, being deeply sensible of the great Blessings we enjoy under your Majesty's most auspicious Reign, take this first Opportunity of congratulating your Majesty on the seasonable and happy Discovery of the late horrid Conspiracy against your Sacred Person and Government.

It must be Matter of Surprise and Horror to all good Men to find, that neither the most mild and easy Execution of the best Laws, nor the most sacred Ties of repeated Oaths, can bind Men to that Allegiance which is as much their Interest as their Duty: But to find Persons of Rank and Distinction engaged in such impious and horrid Designs; Men to whose Fellow-Subjects by high Honours, endeavouring to choke the Fountain whence they live, is most astonishing: But that any Minister of the Gospel, taking upon himself the Stile of God's Ambassador, and preaching to others Obedience, (to which by repeated Oaths he had been bound himself) say, that a Prelate! a Protestant Prelate! should be principally engaged in the most villainous Contrivance of so black an Enterprize, exceeds all Amusement, all Example.

However, the Concern and Apprehensions that arise in us from these unparallel'd Instances of wickedness, are greatly alleviated by the vigorous Resolutions of your most loyal House of Commons, for the Security of your Royal Person and Government; and also for inflicting Pains and Penalties (suitable to the Justice of Parliament) on those Offenders, who by artful Machinations flatter'd themselves, they might overthrow our most happy Constitution, and yet still thought to be fenced with Safety (tho' discover'd) under those very Laws they endeavour'd to overturn.

Your constant Observance of the Laws, and tender Regard for the Liberties of your People; your Choice of able Ministers, who with such Fidelity and unwearied Application have unravel'd this Mystery of Iniquity, are signal Proofs of your Majesty's most consummate Wisdom and Goodness, as your great Clemency towards your rebellious Subjects, is an unparallel'd Instance of your Mercy.

We are therefore bound in Gratitude as well as Duty, to consider your Majesty's Reign over us as the most invaluable Blessing; and to assure your Majesty, that we will in our several Stations, with our Lives and Fortunes, endeavour to defend your Majesty's undoubted Right to the Crown of these Kingdoms, and the Protestant Succession in your Royal House, against the Pretender, and all his open and secret Abettors.

Petersburg, April 30. It is said, the last Express from Constantinople has brought Advice, that the Porte bestows its utmost Attention to the Affairs of Persia, especially since Miri-Ways shews so much Zeal, either pretended or real, in propagating the Mahometan Religion, which himself has embraced: He goes from Camp to Camp, from City to City, with the Alcoran, Missionary-like, making publick Declaration that Mahomet is the True Holy Prophet, that his Doctrine alone ought to be followed: And considering the great Progress these Methods have made among People of all Ranks, the Porte does not care to meddle with a Prince armed with a Pretence so specious as that of Religion, and distinguished by the Character of Propagator of the Mahometan Law. On the other Hand, the Porte is apprehensive, that when Miri-Ways hath thoroughly subdued the Persian Kingdom, he will afterwards disturb the Ottoman Dominions; this is the more likely, because of the present Sophi's unsuitness for War; yet, should the Porte restore the old one, his Fidelity is greatly liable to Suspicion upon Account of former Misdeeds against the Ottoman Interest.

Stockholm, May 5. Several of the principal Nobility and Senators who had retired to their Country Seats to spend the Easter Holidays, have been sent for by the King's Order to be present at the Debates about Matters of Importance now before the Dyet. The Demands of the Czar, and other Points between this Crown and Muscovy, which hitherto have been the principal Subjects of Debate, are now regulated; nevertheless, the final Resolutions on that Head will not be communicated to the Czar's Minister till the Dyet is broke up. Mean while, he having newly received positive Order to return immediately to Petersbourg, strongly presses Count Horn and the other Ministers to dispatch him without Delay, and to give him a satisfactory Answer to the Proposals he has made to the Dyet, that he may be enabled to report the same to the Czar. The Holstein Councillour M. Bassewitz seems contented at the Success of his Negotiations; he seeks to be soon dispatched, and to have his Audience of Leave. The King's Order of the 22d past is published here, by which the Ships of France have free Admittance to the Ports of this Kingdom, but such as come directly from the Levant must still perform Quarantine. M. Arnold, Envoy from Denmark, has declared, that all Ships without any Distinction, may freely pass the Sound.

Hague, May 21. The States of Holland are to assemble on the 26th Instant. The last Advices from Copenhagen relate, that the Dutch Envoy is every Day in Consult with the Ministers of Denmark, to conclude the Differences still depending between that Nation and this Republick. The young Prince of Saxe-Weissenbourg arrived here a few Days past, on his Way for Paris.

The Directors of the Provincial Company of Utrecht, authorized by their High Mightinesses the States of said Province, give Notice, that the first Class of the 2d Lottery of Utrecht, will begin Drawing the 20th of this Instant May, on Penalty of treble Refusion; and as this Lottery is the most Advantageous that has been drawn above; these Ten Years past, by Sea, there being many more great Prizes in it, and a great deal more Deduction: Besides one Ticket may draw several great Prizes, and on the Total there are but two Losers to one Gainer. And as the Dutch Lottery of 12 Classes now on foot is far more Advantageous than their preceding one of 20 Classes, yet this of Utrecht is out of which the Charges are paid: Therefore as it is not doubted but the Tickets which are to be sold in England will soon be disposed of, Notice is given to all Persons who desire to be concerned therein, that the Collectors in England are obliged to send in the List by the 15th Instant. Tickets continue to be sold at 2 l. 10 s. per Ticket in lieu of the 30 Guilders, by Mr. John Pellier, over-against the Golden-Key in Great St. Andrew's-street, near the Seven Dials; by Mr. Isaac Barbut, Merchant, at his House, the Black Ball in Great St. Helen's, near Bishopsgate-street; and by Mr. Isaac Peixoto, Merchant, at his Office, at the Blue-Boat Coffee-house in Spitchin's-Alley, near the Royal Exchange; and at Mr. James Peixoto's Wine Vaults, under the Opera-house in the Hay-market, at all which Places Schemes are given gratis. For the Convenience of those who are not willing to venture 3 l. 10 s. Quivers of Tickets will be sold at 14 s. 6 d. each. And for a convincing Proof that there are but two Losers to one Gainer, the Company Insures Tickets for one Third of their real Cost. Mr. Peixoto continues selling Tickets of the Groningen Lottery now a Drawing.
